

THE ETERNAL TEMPLE

This painting is inspired by the structure of the Third Temple as described in the prophecy of Yechezkel (Ezekial).

The Third Temple is discussed in the Kabbalah as an eternal structure interfacing our physical and spiritual reality. It is the place of consciousness where all people come to the experience of Divine Oneness.

The design of the Temple is discussed in the Kabbalah as reflecting the inner structure of our consciousness. The walls, windows, rooms, doors, gates, vessels, clothing, musical instruments, and rituals of the Temple, all reflect inner workings of our consciousness.

The structure and inner workings of the Temple give deep insight into the spiritual work towards attaining the consciousness of pure unconditional love and oneness.

It is taught in the Kabbalah that the Eternal Temple is built by every one of our prayers and acts of loving kindness.
